 Poetic English Translation

Title:Recognize the Brave, Muhammad Amin Khan

Poet:Prof. Dr. Atta Muhammad "Hami"

When in his land, true men were rare to find,
And deceitful lies had blinded every mind.
When selfish greed swayed both the rich and poor,
And conscience slept, chained down for evermore.
When serving the British was the highest prize,
And slavery’s collar bound their willing eyes.
When none cared to stand for their rightful place,
And lust for power plunged all into disgrace.
At that dark hour, a light began to shine,
The Khoso clan received a grace divine.
Muhammad Amin Khan was born unto this land,
A noble servant with a guardian hand.
In thought and action, wisdom crowned his name,
His words and deeds were unmatched in their fame.
Enraptured by his nation's pain and plight,
Loved by all hearts who sought the truth and right.
A fearless politician of conscience pure,
A brave, wise warrior, steadfast and sure.
Recognize the hero, bold and true to stand:
Muhammad Amin Khan, peerless in the land!
